Premiere of ETS instructor course in Psychosocial support

In February the ETS Competence center had premiere of a new course "ETS instructor in psychosocial support". The target group was coordinators of Psychosocial support from different regions in Sweden. The participants had not been working with ETS before, but prepared some excellent exercises at the end of the course using the new psychosocial support kit of ETS.

The idea is that after the course the instructors in psychosocial support shall be able to use the specific ETS educational training set 'Management and coordination of psychosocial support' for training and simulation.

The course and the content will now be evaluated to see if this is something that will be offered to other ETS Educator faculties to use. ■
